

College Distinctiveness

With the view of our mission statement in mind, we always try to function uniquely, innovatively, and distinctively. In terms of our mission and vision, the college always strives to implement uniqueness in its work. Our college has a number of students from the surrounding villages. Our college students should be made aware of the problems at the bottom of society. Students should also have the ability to solve those problems. The college is working for this purpose. In this regard, the Dashasutri recited by Gadgebaba is very useful. According to this Dashasutri, the college has implemented many activities in the session 2020–21.

The youth are the real wealth of any country. College education is the time to shape and direct the youth's bright future. The college is trying to make these youth the ideal citizens of tomorrow, and they can be nurtured as good people. Our college is also trying to implement social, cultural, educational, and environmental activities so that the personalities of these students can be developed in the college.

The corona shook the entire world during the session 2021-22, causing widespread mental anxiety and uncertainty of existence. The college, aware of the severity of the crisis, not only guided our college students against the fear of corona but also guided the people by visiting various places. In this battle, doctors, nurses, police, and cleaning staff fought directly with this enemy of mankind. Indirectly, the college's National Service Scheme and Guardian Committee tried to fight and visited several places in the Kurha area to raise awareness about the Corona. In this corona situation, the people of the surrounding village were provided with masks, hygiene-related soaps, and sanitizers from the college. A list of such students was prepared on behalf of the National Service Scheme and Guardian Committee of the college, realizing that due to the complete lockdown, many students have problems in their families and need help, and vital food packages were delivered to the homes of such students.

This help was delivered to the homes of 30 students in the villages of Kurha, Marda, Anjansingi, Chenusta, Borda, Kaudnyapur, Murtijapur, Taroda, Ghota, and Anjanvati. In this way, an attempt was made to inculcate a culture of sensitivity and responsibility among the students through direct action.

Considering the social work of the college, Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University's non-teaching staff union selected our college to help the needy families in the Kurha area. The Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University Non-Teaching Staff Union and the College distributed food items to hundreds of families in Kurha, Marda, Anjansinghi, Chenushta, Borda, and Kala Gota. Taking note of all these social activities, the college received the Ramchandra Ganorkar Memorial Social Award for 2020–21. Our college received this cash prize of Rs. 11,000 as a charitable organization working continuously in the social sector.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic and lockdown, various activities carried out online by all the departments were definitely confidence-building for the students. The webinars were conducted at the national level by the Departments of History, Political Science, Marathi, and Library. The webinar received a spontaneous response from all over India. The online method was seen not as an alternative but as an opportunity. Throughout the year, students were studying through an online education system, but along with education, students were involved in other activities by various departments of the college. Online competitions such as the state level essay competition conducted by the Marathi department and the state level patriotic song singing competition by the history department received spontaneous responses from all over the state. Along with this, quizzes, poster making, flower exhibitions, etc. competitions were held so that the students should be active even while staying at home. An embroidery workshop was conducted by the career counselling cell. Online programmes were held such as Shiv Jayanti, Marathi Language Day, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Jayanti, etc. Students were guided through online meetings from time to time to build confidence in the students as well as distance themselves from the education system in the corona situation.

In this session, BA Part-3 student Ms. Muskan Kamble participated in the Senior Women's National Handball Tournament at Kolhapur and then participated in the National Handball Tournament at Bareilly in Uttar Pradesh. Similarly, Kumari Sakshi Kadu participated in the online Yogasana competition organized by the Maharashtra Yogasana Sports Association and was selected as a semi-finalist. Apart from this, she also participated in the Yoga Sports Federation Trust India National Level Online Yogasana Competition. By participating in this competition, she proved that we can maintain our positivity and confidence through yoga even when we stay at home during very uncertain times.
